September 13 & 14, 2019

Lane-Agri Center ~ Murfreesboro, TN

Friday Night 3:30 - 5:30 pm

Meet & Greet ~ 6:30 Keynote Speaker

5 Ingredients of a Profitable Goat Business

- Getting access to land.
- Effective and economical fencing.
- Keeping livestock alive and productive.
- How do I run a business that raises goats?
- What is profit and how do I know if I have one?

Author Greg Christiansen draws on his years of experience in raising meat goats on a commercial scale to explain the principles of managing meat goats as a viable farm business. Greg tells you how to breed does that are capable of working for you and the necessary management to enable the does to do their job. He has excellent sections on fencing goats, working facilities for goats, protecting goats from predators, wintering goats and many other subjects necessary for raising meat goats. This is the most practical how-to book with real life examples of making management decisions to solve problems I've seen. For the producer seeking to raise goats on a commercial scale, this is the only book available with the necessary information and it will be the best money you ever invested in your goat business. Dr. Steve Hart Goat Extension Specialist Langston University Langston, OK.
